

Benjamin Fulford – April 3rd 2017: says US and Japan are close to civil war as Rockefeller death leaves power vacuum

The Japanese Crown Prince Naruhito and consort Masako

The power vacuum left by the death of David Rockefeller has created a situation that, if not diffused, will lead to civil war in the USA and Japan, CIA, Pentagon and Japanese military intelligence sources say. The situation has reached the point where US military might march on Washington DC to do battle with the drug dealing faction of the CIA, Federal Reserve Board stooge politicians and their hired guns, the sources say.

In Japan, meanwhile, the split is between US controlled forces based around the puppet government in Tokyo and nationalistic plus North Korean linked forces strongest in the Osaka region, Japanese military intelligence sources say.

The de-facto abdication of the Japanese Emperor Akihito has created a power struggle over the Japanese throne, right wing sources close to the imperial family say. The Japanese right-wing block has been thrown into turmoil over revelations that Akihito was not the real son of Emperor Hirohito and was a proxy for David Rockefeller, they say. That is why a huge battle is raging over the succession with one group pushing for Crown Prince Naruhito, while other factions are pushing for a replacement of the foreign influenced imperial family that has ruled since Meiji times, the sources say. The three legged crow secret society based in Kyoto, along with the Nichiren Buddhist sect, the Taiwanese and the North Koreans are pushing for such a fundamental change, they say. One candidate they are pushing for is Naoshi Onodera, a rival claimant to the throne, the sources add.

The establishment in Tokyo behind the current imperial family also has worries about Prince Naruhito, the sources say. His wife, Princess Masako, is a member of the Sokka Gakkai Buddhist sect and for that reason she refuses to take part in the Shinto ceremonies that are an essential part of an Emperor's job in Japan, they say. Masako is also the daughter of Hisashi Owada, a Rockefeller crony, they note. However, the current establishment is still willing to go along with Naruhito if he promises to carry out the various Shinto ceremonies without Masako at his side they say. Otherwise they would look for a successor within the current ruling family, presumably Prince Fumihito who has a son and heir, they say.

The group pushing to keep the current family in power is also arguing that it is the institution, not the actual bloodline, that matters.

The Japanese politician Ichiro Ozawa, for his part, has been travelling around Asia saying that Henry Kissinger has anointed him and that once Naruhito takes the throne he will unite Malaysia, North Korea, South Korea and Japan into a single country under his control, the Japanese right wing sources say. What Ozawa and the Japanese old establishment slave politicians fail to realize is that Kissinger has no power and that they are all destined for the trash can of history.

North Korean strongman Kim Jong Un, meanwhile, is in such a funk about the situation that he is permanently high on amphetamines and sleeping in a different location every night worried about being taken out by US drones, Japanese military intelligence sources say.

Traditionalists, meanwhile, are saying there is a need to go back to the way things were before Western imperialists turned Japan into a secret colony during the 19th century. They want complete independence from Western influence for the region, Asian secret society sources say. This something the CIA and the US military are not likely to accept.

In any case, the arcane battle over the Japanese imperial family has worldwide repercussions. Apparently, at the very peak of the existing financial system, the representative of the oldest imperial line, that being the Japanese one, has control over the final seal that allows for the creation of new money, the imperial family sources say.

Now that David Rockefeller and his imperial proxy are out of the picture, the chaos accompanying the collapse of the post-war order presided over by Rockefeller has reached a point where former US President Barack Obama has been arrested by US military police, Pentagon and Japanese MI sources say. Obama's so-called black house or anti-trump headquarters was also set on fire, the sources say. Obama, upon arrest, began naming his bosses in the drug dealing faction of the CIA, the sources say. As a result, a plane containing Afghan heroin and North Korean amphetamines was impounded at Argyle International Airport on St. Vincent and the Grenadines in the Caribbean, the sources say. The money raised from this drug flight was intended to be used to finance the operations of Daesh (formerly known as ISIS), the sources say. This impoundment follows the capture of an Obama linked ship containing 4.2 tons of cocaine, the sources note.

Since the detainment of Obama, the authorities have been systematically intercepting drug shipments into the US. Last week 16 tons of cocaine were seized and a major heroin ring was busted.

The information provided by Obama on the drug money financed Daesh mercenary army has also led to US military actions against them in Yemen, Somalia, Nigeria and Libya, Pentagon sources say.

Donald Trump also seems to have shown he is ready to take action against the pharmaceutical corporations as well with a tweet honoring world autism day. It is rumored his son Barron turned autistic after receiving a tainted vaccine.

The US administration is also signaling a break with the Khazarians by having Trump boycott the March annual meeting of the AIPAC lobby, Pentagon sources say.

The Rothschild Khazarian faction also suffered a major defeat when their plan to merge the London Stock Exchange with the Deutsche Borse was nixed by the EU, Pentagon sources say.

This loss of Rothschild as well as Rockefeller plus Bush/Clinton power means control of the apex of the current US dollar/Euro/Yen Western financial system is at stake. In theory, with the right people in charge, a new Emperor under the current Western financial system could authorize the issuance of trillions or quadrillions of dollars to finance a new age, multiple sources agree.

The Freemasons, whose worldwide network of support to this ancient system, the elected Ralph What the Order of the Jesuits and the Vatican related to CSIS as their new Grand Master from March 25, the sources said the Japanese imperial family.

It is still unclear what is going to make the GM what, but we will try to contact him to find out more to our readers. We assume that there will be peace in the world and the beginning of a golden age.

Needless to say, that more and more people in the world are aware of the nature of the current financial system, and they wonder if it should be modernized and have more transparency in the face of democratic control. Since the financial system is the real source of power on this planet, the battle for its control is essentially a battle for control of the planet earth, and the living creatures and their future.

The Americans rallied behind the US army and Donald Trump would nationalize the Federal Reserve Board and put it under the control of democratically elected officials.

However, since the US is bankrupt, if the Trump nationalizes the regime FRB without consulting US lenders (mainly China and Japan), there would be a worst case scenario, lead to a halt of trade with the US and the late payment of salaries of the US armed forces deployed around the world. This, in turn, would lead to war and the death of 90% of humanity and the destruction of the northern hemisphere.

That's why there's so much at stake in the summit this week between President Donald Trump and Chinese President Xi Jinping.

Pentagon officials say that " Trump had his wings clipped " before the summit " with his son Jared Kushner was forced to scuttle the deal $ 400 million with the Chinese insurer Anbang because of national security, fearing that this will turn in a Chinese resource. "

Sources of the Chinese secret societies admit the Chinese have invested a fortune on the Bureau Hillary Clinton and were very disappointed when she lost, it seems, they are now trying to catch up with the choice of the people and the Trump administration. To this end, said a Chinese industry that the Chinese are going to offer the construction of many production hub in the United States, in order to improve their relations with the Trump regime.

In any case, the Russian Patriarc Kiril, Queen Elizabeth, the Pope Francis, the populist Trump, along with the elderly Asians, now have the opportunity to radically improve the post-war system. This would make it possible once and for all put an end to terrorism and genocidal activities of Khazariana Mafia worshipers of Satan.

Moreover, if an agreement is reached can be made available, if not trillions quadrillion dollars (yuan, etc.) to finance a massive investment campaign to end poverty, stop environmental destruction and to set humanity on a exponential expansion the universe in harmony with nature.

Massive investments could be made to make possible immortality for all those who desire it. We can literally transform this earth to heaven, if an agreement is reached for a golden age of peace.
